NEW YORK, Nov. 10, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- ABM (NYSE: ABM), a leading provider of facility, engineering, and infrastructure solutions, today announced an expanded three-year partnership with the Phoenix Suns and Phoenix Mercury, building on a relationship that began in 2024. Under the new agreement, ABM will extend its services to the Suns and Mercury headquarters and the Mercury practice facility, Mountain America Performance Center, while continuing to provide cleaning & maintenance at Mortgage Matchup Center.

“The strongest partnerships are the ones that keep finding new ways to create value,” said Valerie Burd, President of Business & Industry, ABM. “What started with supporting one of Phoenix’s busiest sports and entertainment venues has grown into an opportunity to serve more of the organization’s operations. That growth speaks to the teams behind this work and our ability to bring the right expertise and resources to the table as our clients’ needs evolve.”

“In sports and entertainment, there really isn’t an offseason for our clients or our team members,” said Brian Grant, Vice President, Sports & Entertainment, ABM. “One night it can be basketball, the next it's a concert, and then we must be ready for general office support on non-event days. Our job is to stay dynamic and flexible to the needs of our clients, giving the Suns and Mercury a strong local operation backed by the people and resources we can bring in from across ABM whenever they’re needed. That kind of responsiveness has been central to this relationship from day one, and it’s exciting to continue to grow and develop the partnership with the Suns and Mercury.”

Across the country, ABM supports professional sports teams, stadiums, arenas, and entertainment destinations with solutions designed for the unique demands of high-traffic, high-profile environments. By bringing together specialized teams, operational expertise and enterprise-wide resources, ABM helps clients create clean, welcoming, and memorable experiences for fans and guests.
